Keynote: Artificial Intelligence For Leadership Teams

Strategic Clarity on the Disruptive,
Transformative Challenges and Opportunities That Really Matter

→ Strategic Clarity on AI

Your leadership team requires a good foundational understanding of the promise and perils of AI and insight into the opportunities and challenges.

That's why strategic clarity on the impact of AI is necessary. Jim Carroll will provide your leadership team with a highly customized keynote presentation or interactive discussion that will provide you with deep insight into the impact of AI on your company and your industry.

Your team will come away with a better understanding of the trends that matter, the strategies that count, and the innovative actions that will take you forward.

→ Realistic Leadership Insight

You don't need hype or hysteria - you don't need utopian visions. You also can't let your internal engine of skepticism defer your action.. When it comes to AI, you need to have a compelling sense of urgency, but you might have an astonishing mindset of complacency. Futurist Jim Carroll will provide you with the strategic clarity on AI that you require.

→ CEO /CxO Level Insight

Futurist Jim Carroll is regularly booked by CEOs and senior executives of major organizations to provide insight into corporate meetings. With clients like NASA, Pfizer, Siemens, Disney, and hundreds more - he knows how to set the stage with critical insight at these offsite events.

Strategic Clarity on AI

"I help CEOs, senior executives, and association leaders align their strategic objectives to the rapid acceleration of AI within a fast-paced keynote or leadership meeting presentation. It's based on customized research specific to your industry and organization, and aligned to your unique perspective. It's insight that matters, is relevant, and actionable!" - Futurist Jim Carroll

→ What You Will Learn

- the two key AI trends unfolding today - generative AI (ChatGPT & LLM's) and the 'AI megatrends'
- an overview of generative technology trends and their promise and peril, opportunity and challenge
- an overview of the even more significant AI Megatrends already occurring - based on up-to-the-minute detailed research specific to your requirements
- the strategic opportunities that exist with AI within your industry and organization, on a near, medium, and long-term basis
- the significant challenges and risks that exist for the same time frame
- what leading innovators and competitors are doing to align with these fast-moving trends

→ From Boards to Team Events

Jim shares his insight with small intimate groups of 15-20 (Boards, senior leadership teams) to large-scale corporate leadership meetings of several hundred people. He adapts his style to the audience - from highly interactive small group discussions to keynote presentations.
